It is a topographical map rather than a political map -- elevations are shown, indicating mountains, hills, and low lying areas, including rivers. Highways are there but are not quite as easy to find as on a road map. Northern Ireland is delineated from the Republic by a different shade, but the counties are not different colors and so one must look carefully for the counties, they do not jump out at you as they would on a political map. However, having said that, I don't believe there is ANYTHING left off this map, from the smallest creek or stream, hill, or village -- all topographical features are shown. If you want to be sure that EVERYTHING on the island is shown, this is the map for you.4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Best detailed map of Ireland available.By Sherry L CalvertThis map provides the kind of detail anyone traveling to Ireland should have. It gives good good information both in Gaelic and English for all of the towns in Ireland and believe me you want to visit the smaller towns more than the larger ones. Every area of Ireland is beautiful beyond words and the history of the country is found as much in smaller areas as the large cities. Because the map is laminated it is easy to use string, ribbon or other markers without the concern of damaging the map. Attractive enough to wall mount I would strongly recommend this map to travelers and those searching for ancestors! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. the map itself is very well done and the print quality is great. Just wish I would have received the correct ...By John Sanders Walls While I had ordered the Ireland poster, I received the United Kingdom poster inside the tube labeled Ireland. Since I needed the map/poster for a school project, I didn't have time to return it and wait for the correct one to arrive. However, the map itself is very well done and the print quality is great. Just wish I would have received the correct map.

The Executive style Ireland map is one of the most authoritative maps yet published of the Emerald Isle. Of the nearly 1,000 place-names shown on this map, all within the Republic of Ireland adhere to that nation's constitution that the Irish and English language share official status. Thus, Gaelic (Irish) place-names, along with their English variants in parentheses, are shown within Irish-speaking regions while English place-names, along with their Gaelic variants, are shown outside these areas. The Ireland map is ideal for those researching their Irish ancestry, a perfect tool for business reference, and the antique Executive style makes a beautiful addition to any decor. It's one of the largest and most detailed maps specifically for Ireland available today. It includes over 1,000 named places including primary and secondary towns, counties, political boundaries, infrastructure, and selected historical sites for both Ireland and Northern Ireland. Per the Republic of Ireland's constitution, the Irish and English languages share official status. In the Gaeltacht, or predominantly Irish-speaking regions, only Irish place-names have official status and are used on signposts. These districts are found within the counties of Cork, Donegal, Galway, Kerry, Mayo, Meath, and Waterford. The map is encapsulated in heavy-duty 1.6 mil laminate which makes the paper much more durable and resistant to the swelling and shrinking caused by changes in humidity. Laminated maps can be framed without the need for glass, so the frames can be much lighter and less expensive. Map Scale = 1:550,000 Sheet Size = 30" x 36"
