Rudolf Blank : Nature Destinations Venezuela and Brazil 2017: Gran Sabana, Llanos, Amazon, Iguacu Falls and the Coastline - Natural Tourist Attractions of Venezuela and Brazil (Calvendo Nature) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Nature Destinations Venezuela and Brazil 2017: Gran Sabana, Llanos, Amazon, Iguacu Falls and the Coastline - Natural Tourist Attractions of Venezuela and Brazil (Calvendo Nature):

Venezuela's Gran Sabana is rich in ancient mesas and waterfalls surrounded by jungle. With a height of almost 1,000 m (about 3,200 ft), Salto Angel is the highest waterfall in the world. Seasonally flooded by the Orinoco and its tributaries, the Llanos present a wide variety of wildlife. Brazil's Amazonia is largely covered by Amazon rainforest. The Anavilhanas Archipelago consists of lakes, channels and island which are seasonally flooded by the Rio Negro and, due to sedimentation and erosion, moving over time. The Iguacu Falls on the border of Brazil and Argentina are famous for their abundant number of cataracts over a total length of 2.7 km (about 1.7 mi). Last not least, both countries have beautiful coastlines with tropical beaches. Calvendo calendars are premium products - a bit more pricey
