Almost as good as being there. It inspired me to paint my travels. A must have for all who love painting and travel.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. A Fleur's TravelogueBy virtualDavisAs an unabashed fleur and doodler, I was quickly-easily-predictably smitten with Oliver Hoeller's visual travelogue. Almost as good as taking your own adventure!

Finalist for the Reportager Award 2015! Take a journey in a hammock up the Amazon with this charming little travelogue. Keen observer Oliver Hoeller travels in a slowboat from Colombia to Peru and shares his observations and reflections in this illustrated story. As he passes through cities and settlements he incidentally answers questions such as: What do Gustave Eiffel and Che Guevara have in common? Where is the Venice of Peru? And how much is a house there? Most images in this book were drawn on location. The immediacy of this approach will captivate you as you follow looking over Olivers shoulder. A visually rich and entertaining visual documentary for fans of drawn narrative, armchair travelers and anyone who enjoys the whimsical.

About the AuthorOliver Hoeller likes to look at life. As a scientist he reports his observations in specialist journals. As an illustrator he uses his skills to draw stories from life for everyone. Oliver lives in a tiny San Francisco apartment with his beautiful wife.
