photography by Dennis Frates : Oregon Unforgettable (Mount Hood cover) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Oregon Unforgettable (Mount Hood cover):

2 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Very disappointing with unnatural photos.By Stephen TuttleThis book was very disappointing. The photographs are not natural. It looks like most of them have been shot through rose (or other) colored lenses. The result are pictures which have almost a Disney or fantasy quality rather than a realistic depiction of Oregon's varied landscape. Others are unclear or too bright. I have purchased many coffee table books, and this is one of the worst. I am sending it back.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Wonderful photographs!By Mark StalcupA really nice photographic tour of Oregon - lots of unique shots and perspectives! I really liked the truck and tulip photo on page 94!

Nature reigns in Oregon, from the lush forests to the snow-clad peaks of the Cascade Range, from the high desert to the expansive coastline. In Oregon Unforgettable, award-winning photographer Dennis Frates takes you on a scenic journey from the liveliest cities to the most remote mountain tops. Through spectacular color photography, experience the crystal blue waters of Crater Lake, the warm hues of the Painted Hills, the bustle of life in Portland, and the mighty waters of the Columbia River like never before. Witness the tranquility of gardens and vineyards and the cheerful clamor of busy docks. See Timberline Lodge at Christmas, the Willamette Valley during harvest, and alpine meadows in full bloom. Come see why Oregon is a state that is truly unforgettable.

About the Author Dennis Frates earned degrees in physical geography and ecology before turning his attention to photography. For over a quarter century he has produced 10,000 to 15,000 photographs a year with his medium and large format film cameras and, in the last 10 years, several digital cameras. His work continues to be selected for national juried exhibitions. He has won numerous awards, including the prestigious Westmoreland Art Nationals Photographer of the Year and Kew Royal Botanic Gardens International Garden Photographer of the Year. Dennis hikes in all seasons along the coast, as well as through western forests and into the desert. His photographs have graced the pages of National Geographic, Sierra, and Audubon. He sells hundreds of photographs and prints each year and has published five books and twenty-three wall calendars exclusively showcasing his exceptional nature images.
