K.M. Szewczyk : The Ride to Read: A woman's solo cycling adventure across Europe for World Literacy Canada before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Ride to Read: A woman's solo cycling adventure across Europe for World Literacy Canada:

A personal narrative of 23 year old Kasia Szewczyk's journey across Europe, travelling alone from Barcelona, Spain to Istanbul, Turkey on a bicycle. The Ride to Read was a grassroots fundraiser created and directed by Kasia in 2012, in fundraising efforts for World Literacy Canada's literacy programs in India. Contents include the full blog (revised and edited) of the 67 day and 4,300 km long journey from Spain through France, Northern Italy, Slovenia, Hungary, Serbia, Bulgaria and finishing in Turkey. A 3-part article series published for Kasia's sponsor, Bicycle Touring Pro, covers a summary of the ride across Europe, the fundraiser and a few life lessons learned on the road. Join Kasia as she sets out for her first ever bicycle journey and learns about bicycle travel and wild camping for the first time. Meet the guys from Catalunya, Kasia's cycling friend Kasia and the Hungarian film crew in Szeged. There's never a dull moment when you're on the road!
