David P Reiter : The Snow In Us: poems about Arctic Canada before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Snow In Us: poems about Arctic Canada:

In 1984, David Reiter began a journey of discovery well above the Arctic Circle. Rather than an expedition requiring physical strength and endurance, this was one of artistic exploration. David lived for several weeks with one of Canada's First People, the Inuit, well before their sovereignty was recognised by the federal government. Immersing himself in their lifestyle, culture and craft, David responded with sensitivity and admiration through the filter of poetry. There was a lifestyle under threat from the incursion of southern culture and technology, but the Inuit today have proven as resilient as any Indigenous people. Thirty years and several poetry collections later, David returns to his first work to celebrate not only the adventure of exploration and also to reflect on how far the Inuit have traveled since then. Enhanced by the drawings of Canadian artists Marilyn Higgins and Lloyd Bennett, this collection will transport you to a land and people worth contemplating as a model of endurance and survival.

About the Author Dr David Reiter is a multi-award-winning author and cross-media artist. David's films include Hemingway in Spain and Nullarbor Song Cycle, which was shortlisted for the 2011 WA Premiers Award. David has been writer-in-residence at a number of places, most recently the KSP Writers Centre in Perth, Bundanon (the Arthur Boyd property), and the Banff Centre for the Arts (Canada) where he composed My Planets: a fictive memoir as an interactive work. It subsequently won the 2012 WA Premiers Award. David gives talks and workshops on the application of new media in the composing and publishing of cross-media works. This is the second edition of The Snow In Us.
